

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO OUR EVALUATORS

It has come to our attention that a new check cashing scam has surfaced using the BARE name. We have found several postings on craigslist and other groups asking for personal information, and in exchange a check would be sent for you to deposit and then transfer funds to another person. Most commonly the email address used for this scam is a yahoo.com, hotmail.com, or gmail.com account.

Please do not respond to any of these postings!

Please note that a BARE employee will NEVER use a generic email address (yahoo, hotmail, gmail, etc) to contact you regarding a mystery shopping offer. Be sure that the email comes from an address at bareinternational.com. However due to "spoofing", just as importantly be sure that any response you send goes ONLY to an address at bareinternational.com.

If you are ever unsure about the legitimacy of an email or posting on the internet, please contact us directly at: shopperinquiry@bareinternational.com

For further information on this scam and previous versions, please visit: MSPA Press Release

Sincerely,

The BARE International Fraud Prevention Team